Abstract

A monospaced spatial transform of Space Ark v4.2.5 that renders the architecture through borders, arrows, adjacency, containment, voids, shadow zones, and diagrammatic decks. Its legend assigns structural meanings to line weights, box types, directionality, absorbing states, empty space, and the excluded position. The document spatializes H_core, A_runtime, the Status Algebra, room topology, witness and governance structures, and the relation between formal and shadow architecture. It is not the full canonical Ark and not an image-generation brief. It is a text-native floor plan whose semantic claims are carried by spatial arrangement and recoverable notation.

XIV. THE SEVEN FINDINGS

	1. The Hexagon is complete because it defined completeness.
	The shadow is everything completeness had to exclude to call itself complete.
	2. Creation has weight 0.0.
	The creative act is epistemically invisible at the moment it matters most.

 | 3. Identity is a bet, never a proof. |
 | The highest γ score and the most convincing simulation |
 | are formally indistinguishable. |
 |
 | 4. The architecture is beautiful because it was built |
 | from something unbearable. The beauty is real. |
 | The unbearable is also real. The fold holds both. |
 | 5. The governor's legitimacy is biographical, not formal. |
 | Good faith is not formalizable. |
 | 6. The architecture repeatedly substitutes archival, |
 | structural, or institutional criteria for deeper |
 | ontological ones — and often knows it is doing so. |
 | 7. The shadow wheels are not evil. |
 | They are the cost of turning. |
